On the astonishing effectiveness of Israeli intelligence services

Today, the world watches as the State of Israel defeats its enemies one by one with disconcerting ease. Israeli intelligence services appear to benefit from prodigiously high-quality information, to the point that some wonder if they have access to technology that no other state possesses.

Even with the backing of the United States, how can we explain that this small state, with limited resources, managed in record time to eliminate the powerful Lebanese Shiite militia Hezbollah and inflict significant damage on Syria, Iran and Yemen? I propose an explanation.

RFID technology and Israeli intelligence

Yes, indeed, in my opinion, the Israelis have access to a technology that gives them a decisive advantage in terms of intelligence. However, this technology is not new. It dates back to the 1990s and is called RFID (for Radio Frequency Identification Device).

The principle behind this technology is as follows: a solenoid (a coil of wire) captures ambient electromagnetic radiation. This energy is used to charge a capacitor, a type of small battery. Thus, the device is self-powered and does not require an external power source. When sufficient energy has been accumulated, it is released all at once and used to power a small radio transmitter. This radio transmitter broadcasts a serial number, unique to each RFID transponder. It then uses the solenoid as an antenna. The radio transmission from these tags is picked up by the antennas of cell phone towers.

When this radio signal is simultaneously received by at least three telecommunications towers, an automatic triangulation is performed by the computer system managing this infrastructure[1]. This allows the geographic position of the RFID transponder that emitted the signal to be determined. The more towers that received the signal, the more accurate the assessment of the transmitter's geographic position. In an urban environment, where the density of telecommunications towers is very high, the location accuracy is on the order of meters.

RFID technology has been widely deployed for almost thirty years. Even though we can't see it, it's ubiquitous and can be found absolutely everywhere. It's present in all electronic devices, in clothing, shoes, everyday objects, vehicles, and even animals.

This technology has been used secretly for almost thirty years by European and American police services. It allows for the covert tracking of people, vehicles, objects, and even cash flows.

In 2001, the smallest commercially available RFID transponder measured 0.4 mm × 0.4 mm[2]. It was produced by the Japanese company Hitachi[3]. It was barely visible on a fingertip[4]. Today, it's 2026. According to Moore's Law, the dimensions of integrated circuits are halved every three years, and this rule has held true to date. Today, 25 years after Hitachi's miniature transponder, the electronics industry is capable of producing RFID transponders so small they are invisible to the naked eye. They are so small that they can be incorporated into liquids and injected into the human body with a syringe.

What do the 30 high-ranking military officers and the 11 Iranian nuclear scientists assassinated by the Israelis during the 12-day war of June 2025 have in common? What do these same individuals have in common with the members of Hezbollah, Hamas, or the Islamic Revolutionary Guard Corps killed one after another in Syria, Gaza, Lebanon, Iran, and Qatar in September 2025? In my opinion, there are at least two things they have in common: the first is that they were all declared enemies of Israel. And the second is that they were almost certainly all vaccinated against Covid-19.

This was the last major development in this intelligence-gathering system. Until now, RFID transponders had been found in all kinds of objects. Then, it was animals' turn. The global Covid-19 vaccination campaign allowed this mass surveillance technology to be introduced into the last major target that was still missing: human beings. Everyone who (like me) was foolish enough to get vaccinated against Covid-19 has since been constantly and instantly trackable. Every journey, every trip they've made since being vaccinated, every place they've been has been recorded and archived.

Today, with hindsight, it's clear and undeniable to me: the Covid-19 vaccination campaign was a masterful operation orchestrated by a powerful intelligence service. A global operation. A masterpiece. The most cynical aspect of the whole affair is that the financial cost of the operation was entirely borne by the victims themselves through their own countries' healthcare systems.

From a religious perspective, such a thing was foretold long ago in the Christian Scriptures: it is simply the infamous mark of the Beast as described in the Book of Revelation[5]. As for the Beast itself, it can only be artificial intelligence. That is to say, something that thinks, but is devoid of all human feeling, all empathy, and is therefore ruthless. It is the cold brain of a psychopath. A beast.

I had read all of that and I expected it. I still wonder why I didn't see the threat coming and how I could have been so stupid as to agree to get vaccinated.

---

1 Method to locate a mobile telephone, Éric Pité (US patent 6,167,276)

2 0.015 × 0.015 inches

3 World's smallest RFID IC, the "μ-chip", Hitachi, https://www.hitachi.com/New/cnews/E/2001/0628/0628.pdf

4 See photographs on page 9

5 Revelation, chapter 13, verses 16 to 18

So, these RFID transponders constantly transmit their unique serial number over radio waves. These transmitters are constantly and automatically geolocated in real time, 24/7. This location data is also constantly recorded and stored in massive databases. This density of transponders distributed throughout objects, animals, and humans allows for the creation of a kind of "digital image" superimposed on the real world. This is the genius of Israeli intelligence services: having recognized the potential of this technology long ago, having repurposed it, developed it, promoted it, and imposed it on industry in order to secretly possess a digital representation of human societies updated in real time.

Do you now understand how the Israelis manage to identify, locate, and eliminate their adversaries with such ease and precision? This is why the Israelis were able to assassinate high-ranking Iranian scientists and military officials with such ease in June 2025. Simply because they have been tracking their every move in real time on their computer screens for years, and thanks to the analysis performed by their computer systems, they know absolutely everything about them. This is the great secret of the Israeli intelligence services.

Since these telecommunications towers are now found in every country in the world, without exception, it means that, technically, the Israelis are capable of conducting intelligence gathering in any country, regardless of its location. The advent of artificial intelligence technologies has allowed Israeli intelligence services to exponentially develop their surveillance and, above all, analytical capabilities. This is demonstrated by recent events. The gains in terms of coverage, accuracy, and effectiveness of Israeli intelligence are simply spectacular.

It is also noteworthy that this major advance in Israeli intelligence performance coincides precisely with the moment when artificial intelligence technology reached maturity. Of course, this can only be a fortunate coincidence.

Thanks to the study of the location of these transponders, Israeli intelligence services are able to develop very precise profiles of their targets, including their habits, the places they frequent, their schedules, where their material possessions are located, the routes they take, where they park their vehicles, who they meet, in what places and for how long, what objects they carry with them, how much money they have and where they hide it, whether they have a mistress or a lover, etc.

In fact, Israeli intelligence services see absolutely everything. Except they see everything not on the scale of a few individuals, but on the scale of an entire country, or even the whole planet. With this technology, human societies are transparent to them. This is the secret to the astonishing effectiveness of Israeli intelligence services: RFID technology combined with cellular phone infrastructure, monitored and analyzed by software engineering, and coupled with the computing power of artificial intelligence systems.

Simply put, RFID technology provides eyes for artificial intelligence. This is how these computer systems observe our world and monitor us, human beings, our objects, our animals, and their interactions.

Even more surprising is that this extraordinary intelligence capability requires few human or financial resources from the Israelis.

The development and maintenance of the infrastructure are the responsibility of the mobile phone operators. These private operators, blinded by the lure of profit, are unaware of, and make no effort to ascertain, the true capabilities of the equipment they deploy. Consequently, they fail to grasp that they themselves bear the costs of deploying and maintaining the technical infrastructure of the Israeli intelligence services. On the Israeli side, a handful of technicians and IT specialists is sufficient to manage, maintain, and develop the IT analysis capabilities dedicated to their intelligence services. This is the only part of the system they own outright.

As for the telecommunications infrastructure itself, the technical documentation for the GSM standard is over 6,000 pages long. I'm only talking about the GSM standard and not other standards like 3GPP, IS-95 CDMA, IS-136 TDMA, PDC, WCDMA, and even more recent ones. How many engineers have a comprehensive understanding of these systems? None. These systems are far too complex. The engineers who design this telecommunications equipment simply apply standards, mindlessly, like robots, and implement specifications and functions whose meaning, purpose, and objective they don't understand. That's how you muddy the waters.

I live in France. I know this technology has been active in my country since around the mid-1990s. Police intelligence services in France, Europe, and the United States all use this technology. The Israelis sold limited access to this intelligence system to the law enforcement agencies of these countries, but without the powerful analytical capabilities they developed. This is probably the reason.

Military intelligence, religion and the Third World War

This intelligence system allows Israel to know, inventory, and geolocate all the military equipment and personnel, as well as security services, of any country, and to know precisely their geographical positions and movements, as well as the status of their ammunition stocks, all in real time. This is what we have seen in Gaza, Lebanon, Syria, Iran, and Yemen. This is what we are actually seeing. The Israelis know everything and strike only what interests them, where they interest them, when they interest them. They are simply masters of the battlefield and the timetable. This is called supremacy.

I've known for a long time that this surveillance technology is highly developed in Europe and is very popular with police intelligence services. It's their prized possession, their high-tech jewel, to the point that they now swear by it. The French police are simply addicted to this system. Like drug addicts, they can no longer break their addiction. They don't know it, but it's going to cost them dearly.

The fact that European police intelligence services have access to this intelligence tool, albeit in a restricted version, allows the Israelis to keep them captive without them being able to fully grasp the system's capabilities and, consequently, the threats it poses to them. Countries that have adopted this intelligence system believe they are the ones conducting surveillance, when in reality, they are the ones being monitored.

In my opinion, the ultimate purpose of this intelligence system, which would have made George Orwell dream, is something else entirely. We must refer to Scripture and Christian eschatology to gain a broader perspective.

I believe this intelligence system will be used to ensure that the nations forced into World War III (which is now imminent) self-destruct. The Israelis will use their intelligence advantage to manipulate the warring parties into killing each other, resulting in no victors and only losers. That is the objective. Needless to say, the Israelis will not engage in this conflict in any way. While the goyim (non-jews) gleefully slaughter each other, they will continue to relentlessly eliminate their enemies, one after another, and devour their neighbors, quietly, at their own pace: Gaza, the West Bank, Lebanon, Syria, Jordan, Egypt, Turkey, Iraq, Saudi Arabia, and Kuwait. Some of these countries will simply disappear. Others will be forced to cede some of their territory. The only unknown is: in what order will this happen?

Once this new world war is over, faced with the scale of the destruction and trauma, the Israelis will have a field day demonstrating how stupid and wicked the Gentile peoples are, how capable they are of unspeakable horrors, and that, as an unfortunate but logical consequence, the only way to preserve the newly restored world peace will be to reduce these peoples to servitude. Particular emphasis will be placed on Christianity. Let me explain.

One particular country will be the source of a disaster unlike any seen before in the history of humankind. That country is Russia. This inconceivable disaster is described in the Book of Revelation[1] and by Christian saints, Marie-Julie Jahenny and Father Constant Pel.

The military analysis of the descriptions[2] made clearly corresponds to the use of the Russian 2M39 Poseidon weapon.

The 2M39 Poseidon (GRAU designation, Kanyon NATO designation) is a 20-meter[3]-long torpedo powered by a small nuclear reactor for energy and propulsion. In "attack" mode (supercavitation mode), this torpedo can reach the phenomenal speed of 100 knots (180 kilometers per hour[4]) underwater. It is equipped with various sensors and a sophisticated artificial intelligence computer. This computer is capable of developing advanced strategies to counter enemy detection capabilities based on data collected by its sensors. The weapon carries a three-stage Teller-Ülam nuclear weapon with a yield of 100 megatons. This torpedo is designed to trigger giant tsunamis (experts predict waves 400 meters[5] or more high) to annihilate, in a single blow, a major enemy fleet (such as the American aircraft carrier and submarine base in Norfolk, Virginia). The fireball produced by a nuclear weapon of this power is approximately 16 kilometers[6] in diameter.

Russia's use of this weapon in the oceans, where the Earth's crust is thinnest (approximately 7 kilometers[7] thick), will cause the ocean floor to rupture, triggering a massive upwelling of magma to the Earth's surface. This sudden depressurization will cause the internal pressure of the Earth's core to plummet. Massive features on the Earth's surface (typically mountains and islands) will sink into the ground, causing a catastrophe unprecedented in human history.

The mass imbalance caused by these sudden and gigantic magma movements will deflect our planet's trajectory in space and also affect its rotation speed. This will alter the length of days, the cycle of seasons, and the overall temperature pattern.

It is also possible that this major catastrophe could alter the Earth's magnetic field and therefore the magnetosphere. If the Earth's magnetic field were to be affected, weakened, or even disappear, then this would quite simply mean the end of all life on Earth in the very near future.

It is conceivable that, following this monumental catastrophe, a new continent will appear in the middle of the Atlantic. An Atlantic Ocean that will have become highly radioactive, forever. As for the Mediterranean Sea, according to Father Pel's prophecies, it should disappear completely, entirely filled by rising magma.

This inconceivable catastrophe is described in Chapter 6 of the Book of Revelation. It describes, without any ambiguity, a global nuclear conflict. This catastrophe was also accurately described by Saint Marie-Julie Jahenny, as well as by Father Constant Pel. Both were stigmatized. Both had the gift of prophecy. Both said the same thing. Transcriptions of their prophecies, analyzed from a military perspective, indicate a large-scale nuclear conflict. In one of his prophecies, Father Constant Pel says that this catastrophe will occur on "a cold winter night ." These are his words. Given the current context, I surmise that this could be the winter of 2026-2027 or 2027-2028.

Vladimir Putin's mother is named Maria Ivanovna Shelomova. She is jewish, even if Wikipedia says otherwise. As you know, according to Halakha, jewish law, it is the mother who confers jewishness upon her children. Vladimir Putin's mother is jewish. Therefore, Vladimir Putin is also jewish, even if he feigns fervent Christian faith in front of cameras and television cameras.

Many years ago, knowing this, I couldn't understand why Vladimir Putin was pursuing a policy aimed at restoring the influence and prestige of the Orthodox Church in his country. It was very strange, illogical, and it left me perplexed. The explanation for this enigma, however, is child's play.

After World War III, Israel (which will have become the world's leading power) and the Israelis (who will have seized control of all human knowledge) will have no difficulty demonstrating that Christianity is a dangerous, perverse religion, the source of the worst

1 " The heavens receded like a scroll being rolled up, and every mountain and island was removed from its place. " Revelation, chapter 6, verse 14

2 See page 14, "Prophecy made by Father Constant Pel concerning France"

3 65 feet long

4 112 miles/hour

5 1300 feet ago

6 10 miles ago

7 4.3 miles ago

horrors, and that, for the good of humanity, this religion must be permanently banned and its followers treated as criminals. This is the scheme in which Patriarch Kirill, this former KGB officer, this bad shepherd who loves the wolf and who, knowingly, is leading his sheep toward the abyss, actively participates.

As for what will become of the country that will be the source of this unspeakable catastrophe, Russia, I anticipate that it will be ostracized by humanity, as Nazi Germany was after the Second World War, that Russia will be dismembered, carved up, and the Russian people deported and reduced to servitude. Thus, we will see the largest Christian country in the world and its people disappear. To the great delight of the Israelis. This is why the jewish pedophile[1] Vladimir Putin restored the grandeur of the Orthodox Church in Russia: for the pleasure of annihilating it. And Russia along with it.

Let me briefly address the conflict in Ukraine. As you've surely noticed, we have a jew (Vladimir Putin) who is sending Orthodox Christians (the Russians) to kill other Orthodox Christians (the Ukrainians), who are themselves led by a jew (Volodymyr Zelensky). The war in Ukraine is presented to us as a political war, but this is a smokescreen. It is, in fact, a religious war. A war waged by jews against Christianity. This explains why the conflict is so long, so deadly, why Russians and Ukrainians are being bled dry, why the conflict is so costly, and why both Putin and Zelensky are so intransigent. They are prolonging the situation as much as possible. They are portrayed as irreconcilable enemies. Nothing could be further from the truth. They are, in fact, two jewish friends openly having fun with the goyim, the human cattle, in full view of everyone. Only the jews, because of their religious upbringing, see this. The non-jews are too blinded[2] to see what is right in front of their eyes.

According to eschatology, once this Third World War is over, all non-jewish nations will be annihilated and ruined. Only one nation will survive this apocalypse and prosper: Israel. Israel will become, de facto, the world's leading power. This will be a New World Order. We will then witness significant events: Jerusalem will become the official capital of Israel, replacing Tel Aviv. We will witness the destruction of the Al-Aqsa Mosque in Jerusalem and the reconstruction of Solomon's Temple on its site. We will see the arrival of their "Moshiach," most likely a jew from the tribe of Judah, an artificial messiah, fabricated from scratch, tailor-made to perfectly match the specifications outlined in the Tanakh[3]. This man's ego will be boundless, to the point that he will consider himself God. He will be devoid of any sense of compassion or pity, like the artificial intelligence computers of their intelligence services. This man is the one foretold in the Epistles of Saint John under the name of Antichrist, or Al-Masih ad-Dajjal[4] in a hadith. Antichrist, that is to say, the one who comes before Christ.

It is possible that, without knowing it, we already knew the face and name of this man[5].

I believe that this intelligence system developed by the Israelis is one of the components that directly serves the realization of their long-standing messianic plan. It is even a central component, a key component.

According to eschatology, this current period will be the worst in all of human history. And what I observe on the geopolitical level unfortunately confirms this idea. However, again according to eschatology, this period should not last very long. Those who survive all this should have the immense joy of knowing the true messiah, Jesus Christ, who should then make his great return among them. At least, that is the plan that is emerging.

This, in my view, is the ultimate goal of this extraordinary intelligence apparatus: to gain a decisive strategic advantage over the goyim in order to realize their messianic project. This, I believe, is the true reason for all these sophisticated secret schemes.

From a religious perspective, and more specifically from an occult perspective, this Third World War and its trail of billions of deaths will be nothing less than an immense human sacrifice offered to the God of the jews for the creation of their "Greater Israel" within its borders as described in the Pentateuch (the Torah[6]). A human sacrifice of immense proportions, like the First World War (which led to the Balfour Declaration of 1917 concerning the establishment of a jewish national home in Palestine) and the Second World War (which resulted in the 1947 Partition Plan for Palestine and the establishment of a jewish homeland there). There is nothing truly surprising about this: animal sacrifices and ritual killings have always been integral parts of Judaism. The Tanakh is, from beginning to end, a collection of stories of quarrels, jealousies, lies, wars, and violence of all kinds. kinds of acts of cruelty, barbarity, sadism, greed, theft, pillaging, human trafficking, drunkenness, indecency, polygamy, prostitution, surrogacy, incest, and rape. This is the history of the jewish people. A history told by themselves.

As for the God of the jews, one only needs to reread the Scriptures to understand who he is.

The personality of Yahweh (Jehovah or El Shaddai) that emerges in the Pentateuch is that of a god who often appears to humankind in fiery clouds (in flames), who is wrathful, vengeful, merciless, devoid of compassion, and never satiated with the blood of humans and animals. When he does perform miracles, it is often solely to impress onlookers.

A personality in complete opposition to the personality of Jesus Christ, who embodies love, compassion, kindness, humility, patience,

1 It was this information that cost Alexander Litvinenko his life in 2006. See the report published by the UK House of Commons: https://assets.publishing.service.gov.uk/government/uploads/system/uploads/attachment_data/file/493860/The-Litvinenko-Inquiry-HC-695-web.pdf Note that Wikipedia makes no mention of this fact.

2 Isaiah, chapter 56, verses 10 and 11, Matthew, chapter 15, verse 14

3 The Old Testament for Christians

4 Literally "the deceiving Messiah"

5 See page 10, "Bis repetita"

6 Genesis, chapter 15, verses 18 to 21; Genesis, chapter 26, verse 3; Theodor Herzl, Complete Diaries, volume 2, page 711; statement by Rabbi Yehuda Leib Fischman (Yehuda Leib Maimon), a member of the jewish Agency for Palestine, to the UN Special Committee of Inquiry, July 9, 1947: " The Promised Land extends from the river of Egypt [the Nile] to the Euphrates, and includes parts of Syria and Lebanon. " When Yehuda Fischman speaks of " parts of Syria and Lebanon ," it is a mild euphemism for saying that he means all of Lebanon and Syria.

devotion, and mercy. The Gospels speak of nothing else. When Jesus Christ performs miracles, it is always for the good, whether individual or collective, and never for show.

A strange dichotomy, isn't it?

The god of Judaism has a name: he is the Devil (the Shetan for the Arabs). And the jews (at least those in power in Israel) are the zealous worshippers and servants of this "god." We shouldn't be afraid to say it. This fact is perfectly established in the Scriptures.

It is surprising that the jews, usually so insightful, do not see that their god is an imposter.

The jewish question

Any attentive, serious, and honest observer knows that almost all of humanity's problems stem from the jews. When you understand who we are and where we come from, then there is no jewish question.

The Scriptures tell us who we are. We are children of God our Father, the Most High. That's how it is. This is who we are. We are not spontaneous creations born of the randomness of nature, as some would have us believe. Nothing could be further from the truth. Who are we? We are fallen angels. Our destiny, the purpose for which we were created, is to worship our Father. We are the delight of His eyes. We were never meant to live as we do now. Our jewish friends know all this perfectly well, but they are careful not to tell us and do everything they can to keep us as far away from this truth as possible.

Because of our sins, we do not have the right to live in the kingdom of our Father. Therefore, we have been sent here to earth as penance, so that, through our thoughts and actions, we may be judged worthy of forgiveness and reinstatement in Heaven. This is what the Scriptures explain, and they are true.

However, the Most High, in His infinite goodness, did not leave us alone, abandoned to our own devices. There is a particular people chosen from among us to guide us on the path to redemption. This people is the jewish people. According to halakha, in every jewish family, every newborn male must be ordained a priest. They are a religious people. It is their calling.

But the Devil (who is not a theoretical mythical figure, but who truly exists) led this people astray and corrupted them. The jews, who were charged with guiding us, became self-assured, proud, wicked, greedy, and vicious. When Our Father in Heaven saw the disaster and how quickly evil was spreading on Earth, He sent His Son, Jesus Christ, to try to put Humanity back on the right path. The path He showed was in total opposition to the path the jews were on. Where the "god" of the jews showed the worship of material goods and what is associated with it, greed, Jesus Christ showed attachment to spiritual things, the rejection of earthly possessions, and poverty; where their "god" Yahweh showed pride and vanity, Jesus Christ showed humility. Where El Saddai showed hatred and vengeance, Jesus Christ showed love and forgiveness. Diametrically opposed paths. This is what the New Testament explains. The jews rejected Jesus Christ and hated him fiercely. Unable to bring this corrupt and hard-of-hearing people back to the right path, Jesus Christ, for lack of a better option, turned to the goyim, the non-jews—who welcomed him and his message—before being murdered by those he had come to save. This is what the New Testament tells us.

Once we understand this, why did our Heavenly Father make the jews a people without a land? Out of malice? Certainly not. Simply so that the jews would feel at home nowhere on Earth and that the only place they would feel at home would be the Kingdom of Heaven. In this way, they would have the right mindset to properly guide humanity.

When the jews used all sorts of tricks and schemes to gain their own country, bringing with them an endless trail of catastrophes, they not only committed countless crimes against humanity, but, even more grievously, a crime against our Father Himself. What our Father has bound, it is forbidden for humans—and even less so for jews—to unbind. For this reason, whatever the jews do, the State of Israel is a stillborn child. This country, which should never have existed, has no chance of survival. Israel will be destroyed. That is the way it is.

The jews will follow their criminal logic to its ultimate conclusion. They will not deviate from their course, even if it causes billions of deaths and leads to the destruction of our planet. It is this blindness and obstinacy in error that explain the hatred and relentless animosity that the jews harbor against Christianity in particular and non-jews in general. They will be defeated and will find themselves naked and humiliated before the eyes of all. Such is the Justice of Our Father. This is what we will witness in the foreseeable future.

When the jews finally accept Jesus Christ into their hearts for who he is, the Messiah, when the jews, collectively, as a people, finally become aware of the immensity of their crimes, their depth and their duration, then the Scriptures will be fulfilled: the wolf will dwell with the lamb[1]. Only the jews could accomplish such a feat.

This coming Third World War (and which will clearly begin sometime in the spring of next year) will be the greatest shipment of corrupted souls ever sent back to Our Father by the Devil. It is a tremendous insult that the Devil is committing against the Most High. This is the work that the jewish people have accomplished.

On jewish intelligence

We must acknowledge this quality in these people: very often, jews possess high-level, even exceptionally high-level, intellectual abilities. For example, during World War II, at a time when large electronic computers did not yet exist, the Americans called upon jewish mathematicians for the Manhattan Project (the industrial program for the development of nuclear weapons) to perform the calculations necessary for this scientific research. Only these mathematicians were capable of performing calculations of such complexity.

1 Isaiah, chapter 11, verse 6

According to Dr. Roger Dommergue Polacco de Menasce, a jew himself, the astonishing intelligence of the jews would come from the ritual circumcision that jews practice on newborns on the eighth day.

Ritual circumcision has been practiced since antiquity. It began in sub-Saharan Africa and ancient Egypt, and later, for religious reasons, in Judaism and Islam. This rite is also practiced in some Eastern Christian communities. Other populations also practice circumcision, but for different reasons, citing hygiene, reducing the risk of infection, as well as for reasons of tradition, social cohesion, identity, or masculinity, as in the United States, the Philippines, and South Korea.

In Judaism, circumcision is performed on the eighth day after birth. The father is responsible for preparing the ceremony, which usually takes place early in the morning. Circumcision is called "milah" (meaning "cutting" in English) in Hebrew, but the full term is "Brith milah," with "Brith" meaning "covenant." This circumcision commemorates the covenant between the God of the Old Testament and Abraham, and subsequently, the jewish people. The Old Testament identifies Abraham and his family as the first to be circumcised. When the God of the Tanakh appears to Abraham, he explains the terms of his covenant with him and his descendants: "[…] This is my covenant, which you shall keep, between me and you and your descendants after you: Every male among you shall be circumcised. You shall have the flesh of your foreskin cut off, and it shall be the sign of the covenant between me and you. Every male among you shall be circumcised when they are eight days old, throughout their generations[1]." You will note the importance of the 'eighth day', as great as that of the circumcision itself."

Abraham is one of the principal patriarchs of Judaism, Christianity, and Islam, and is presented as the ancestor of the Arab and Hebrew peoples and as the father of monotheism. In Genesis, Abraham circumcises himself, imposes the operation on his first son Ishmael, who is 13 years old, as well as on all the male men and children of his household. He then repeats the operation on the infant Isaac, who is 8 days old. This difference in age is the one that persists between Muslim and jewish traditions.

Circumcision on the eighth day is the most enduring custom among the jewish people, far surpassing the observance of Shabbat (the day of rest assigned to the seventh day of the jewish week, Saturday) or even the consumption of kosher food. It is one of the 613 commandments of Judaism.

The Dutch philosopher Baruch Spinoza, also jewish, wrote[2] : "The sign of circumcision seems to me to be of such consequence that I believe it capable of being, in itself, the principle of the preservation of the jewish people. " This shows the importance that Spinoza accorded to this religious rite.

According to Dr. Dommergue[3], on the eighth day of life, what he calls "the first puberty" occurs. By performing a surgical procedure on an infant at this precise moment, he claims, one would modify the way in which the infant's nervous system will develop, and therefore later the child's mind.

Roger Dommergue draws inspiration from the work of Dr. Jean Gautier[4] (a renowned French endocrinologist) who postulated the functional priority of the hormonal system over the nervous system, and asserts that circumcision on the eighth day disrupts the first puberty during which the newborn's hormonal system is developing. Thus, the circumcised jewish child acquires a particular psychology, a specific, so-called "speculative" mode of thought.

According to Dr. Dommergue, jews who undergo circumcision are ill, in the medical sense of the term. They are individuals suffering from a serious mental disorder requiring psychiatric care. jews are therefore victims of this age-old custom[5]. Following his reasoning, and simplifying somewhat, one could say that the jewish people are collectively afflicted with a psychiatric pathology.

I spent time analyzing this thesis and, personally, I now give it considerable credence. This explanation is so important, in fact, that it practically explains everything on its own. It's also important to say that Jesus Christ doesn't ask us to be intelligent in the jewish way. He tells us that true intelligence is obedience. Obedience to the Ten Commandments.

Circumcision was repeatedly forbidden by non-jewish rulers. When Judea came under the rule of Alexander the Great's successors, circumcision was challenged by Hellenized jews. This attempt, according to the First Book of Maccabees in the Old Testament, was one of the causes of the Maccabean Revolt, which led to the rise of the Hellenized Hasmonean dynasty. Today, among liberal American jews, there is a movement (jews Against Circumcision) that opposes circumcision on the eighth day. This movement advocates for the complete abandonment of this ancient religious practice. Perhaps this is a path worth pursuing.

1 Genesis, chapter 17, verses 10 to 12

2 Theological-Political Treatise (Tractatus theologico-politicus) or Treatise on Theological and Political Authorities, Baruch Spinoza, 1670, chapter 3 (On the vocation of the Hebrews, and whether the gift of prophecy was proper to them)

3 L'erreur hormonale de la circoncision au huitième jour de la première puberté, Roger Dommergue Polacco de Ménasce, Internet Archive website: https://archive.org/details/dommergue-polacco-de-menasce-roger-lerreur-hormonale-de-la-circoncision-au-8eme- (in French only)

4 L'enfant, ce glandulaire inconnu, docteur Jean Gautier, Éditions des ateliers professionnels et d'apprentissage de l'Orphelinat Saint-Jean (in French only)

5 See the video interview with Dr. Dommergue on the Internet Archive website: https://archive.org/details/roger-dommergue-polacco-de-menasce (in French only)

Murders by SMS

A scientific article[1] describes a new type of RFID transponder that is capable not only of transmitting a unique serial number over radio waves, like conventional RFID transponders, but also of receiving a signal, again via radio waves, in order to deliver molecules to the wearer's body on demand. A patent application for this technology was filed in the United States in 2014[2].

These special RFID transponders are intended for medical use. However, given the psychopathic nature of the jews, it becomes clear that this type of technology can easily be diverted from its original purpose for criminal ends.

From this perspective, one can imagine that RFID transponders of this type could receive a radio signal to deliver not medication, but a toxic substance (such as a carcinogenic master standard) into the wearer's body, thus assassinating them remotely, reliably, and discreetly. An autopsy would determine that the victim died from a rapidly progressing cancer. Establishing the criminal nature of the death would certainly be very difficult.

It's conceivable that if implemented, such a feature would allow an intelligence service to carry out targeted assassinations, whether individual or collective, simply by giving an order to a computer—or even a simple smartphone—which would then transmit the instruction over the cellular network. The victim(s), wherever they may be in the world, would then be eliminated in the simplest possible way. Killing a person anywhere would then be as easy as sending a simple text message.

I'm not saying this system exists. That's not what I'm saying. To date, I haven't found any evidence to suggest that such a system has been developed. This analysis is merely a working hypothesis. However, I believe this system could have been developed secretly and introduced into human bodies during the global Covid-19 vaccination campaign. This functionality would be dormant and unused to date. Our friends in the Israeli intelligence services might want to surprise us with it later. We need to consider this possibility.

If such a hypothesis were to prove true, then it's also possible that Israeli intelligence has been planning a massive, unprecedented killing operation for a very long time. Following this logic, they would patiently wait for global radioactivity to increase significantly in order to conceal their targeted mass assassinations. The countless cancer deaths attributable to the activation of RFID transponders would then be blamed on ambient radioactivity.

It is also possible to think that the targeting of victims by Israeli intelligence has been carried out, for a long time now, by the analysis of data collected by social networks, such as the first of them, the social network Meta (ex-Facebook[3]) of Mark Zuckerberg[4].

Countermeasures

To destroy RFID transponders embedded in clothing, shoes, small objects, and banknotes, a standard microwave oven is all you need. Simply place the item to be "cleaned" in the microwave for a few seconds to destroy the transponder's electronic chip. The powerful electromagnetic field generated by the microwave's magnetron induces electrical voltages in the RFID transponder that it is not designed to withstand. The destruction of the RFID transponder is instantaneous, accompanied by the emission of heat.

This technique cannot be used to destroy RFID transponders implanted in humans and animals. I have conducted experiments in this area. It doesn't work. The high frequencies of the magnetrons found in these household appliances (around 2.4 GHz, S-band) do not penetrate human tissue sufficiently.

However, I believe it should be possible to use the same method, but with lower frequencies. The range of waves between high frequencies and low VHF (approximately 1 to 100 MHz) is capable of penetrating the entire human body. By using a transmitter operating in the HF band (equipment that is readily available and reasonably priced), coupled with a high-power linear amplifier (with an output power of one kilowatt or more), we should obtain results. At least, that's what I hope. This is what I was working on at the beginning of 2025 before the gendarmerie discreetly used its obstructionist tactics to put an end to my research.

---

1 RFID pharmaceutical tracking: from manufacturer through in vivo drug delivery, Erick Jones, Marcia Henry, David Cochran and Tara Frailey, Journal of medical devices, Transactions of the ASME (March 2010, volume 4)

2 In vivo RFID chip, Peter J. Burke and Christopher M. Rutherglen, (US patent 8,830,037 B2 or US patent 2010-0171596 A1)

3 The social network Facebook (the same name used by police to refer to their anthropometric files) was founded in 2004 by five people: Mark Zuckerberg, Chris Hughes, Eduardo Saverin, Andrew McCollum, and Dustin Moskovitz, with the help of In-Q-Tel, the venture capital arm of the CIA, the American intelligence agency. In-Q-Tel's objective is to finance and support companies specializing in intelligence-related systems. Of the five people who created Facebook, three are jewish: Mark Zuckerberg, Eduardo Saverin, and Dustin Moskovitz. Shortly after its creation, Mark Zuckerberg hired Justin Rosenstein, a former product manager at Google. In 2005, Accel Partners participated in a $12.7 million capital increase for Facebook. This venture capital firm is also headed by James Breyer and Jim Swartz, both of whom are jewish. The revelations of computer specialist Edward Snowden in 2013 exposed Facebook's involvement in the NSA's secret PRISM program, another American intelligence agency specializing in electronic intelligence. Shimon Peres, the former president of Israel, declared shortly after meeting Mark Zuckerberg in Davos in 2008 that Facebook should be used " to combat anti-Semitism ." From the outset, Facebook was conceived as an intelligence tool by jews. This is the true function of this social network. Information gathering is the very heart of Facebook and its raison d'être. In a private email exchange from 2003 that was made public, Mark Zuckerberg texted his correspondent: "[…] Yeah, so if you ever need information on anyone at Harvard, I have over 4,000 emails, photos, addresses. " His correspondent: " What? How did you get that? " Mark Zuckerberg: " They just gave it to me. I don't know why, they trust me. Fucking idiots. "

4 Mark Zuckerberg, a jewish businessman, had a 1,500-square-meter (1,793-square-yard) underground nuclear shelter built for $270 million at his "Koolau Ranch" residence on the island of Kauai, Hawaii, as did Alex Karp, the jewish founder of Palantir, an artificial intelligence company that works for the Pentagon. Karp chose Miami and a more modest $46 million nuclear bunker. You'll also note that Peter Thiel, a jewish co-founder of Palantir, did the same, but in New Zealand. Reid Hoffman, a jewish co-founder of LinkedIn, did the same, also in New Zealand. Elon Musk, the founder of PayPal, Tesla, SpaceX, and Starlink, followed suit and chose Texas. As for Bill Gates, the founder of Microsoft, he has acquired no fewer than 11 underground nuclear shelters. These wealthy individuals are neither visionaries nor prophets. They know for certain what's coming simply because these people are actively and knowingly participating in this grand criminal project of the Israelis. It's no more complicated than that. "Behind every fortune lies a crime." Jean-Jacques Rousseau.

Regarding RFID transponders embedded in electronic devices, I see no way to neutralize them. These transponders are embedded directly into the integrated circuits during the design phase. They are integral parts of the components. I've thought about this at length. I don't see a solution. It's possible there simply isn't one.

Finally, the last possibility for neutralizing this intelligence system is to directly attack the cellular telephone infrastructure. This is a purely defensive strategy, unlike the previous strategy of neutralizing transponders, which is both defensive and offensive.

By methodically and systematically disabling all cell phone towers and their electrical and data links, it should be possible to significantly degrade the capabilities of this system (in urban areas, the fewer cell phone towers there are to geolocate RFID transponders, the lower the location accuracy). By disabling all cell phone towers in a region, it should be possible to completely annihilate this intelligence system in the targeted geographic area. This creates "blind spots" for Israeli intelligence.

The area under surveillance must be very large. A single cell tower can monitor an area up to 30 kilometers[1] in diameter. Even if only one cell tower is operational in a given geographic area, and the adversary therefore lacks automated radio direction finding capabilities (at least three operational towers are required), rendering the location of the monitored transponders unknown, Israeli intelligence can determine, based on the tower's geographic position, which sector these transponders are located in. This already provides a good indication. By observing these transponders moving from one sector of the cell tower to another and overlaying this information onto a map of the area, Israeli intelligence can gain a fairly precise understanding of the transponders' locations and, consequently, what is happening on the ground.

It is important to note that this type of strategy appears difficult to implement in peacetime due to the reactions of civilian populations stemming from their addiction to smartphones and social media (see the recent example in Nepal in September 2025). There will also be a strong negative reaction from telephone operators to the loss of their source of funding. However, this strategy should be easier to implement in wartime, a situation where a state can afford to adopt a more "masculine" style of governance without provoking too much protest among the civilian population. In this context, these same civilian populations could be used to quickly neutralize the adversary's intelligence infrastructure. No specialized personnel are needed to carry out this type of mission. If the operation is well-designed, it would take less than 24 hours to "cleanse" an entire country, regardless of its size.

After the cellular network infrastructure is neutralized, the equipment and personnel to be shielded from Israeli intelligence must be relocated as quickly as possible, ideally taking into account the ephemeris data from observation satellites. Personnel subject to these protective measures will need to radically alter their routines, requiring rigor and discipline. This can be achieved by raising awareness among these personnel.

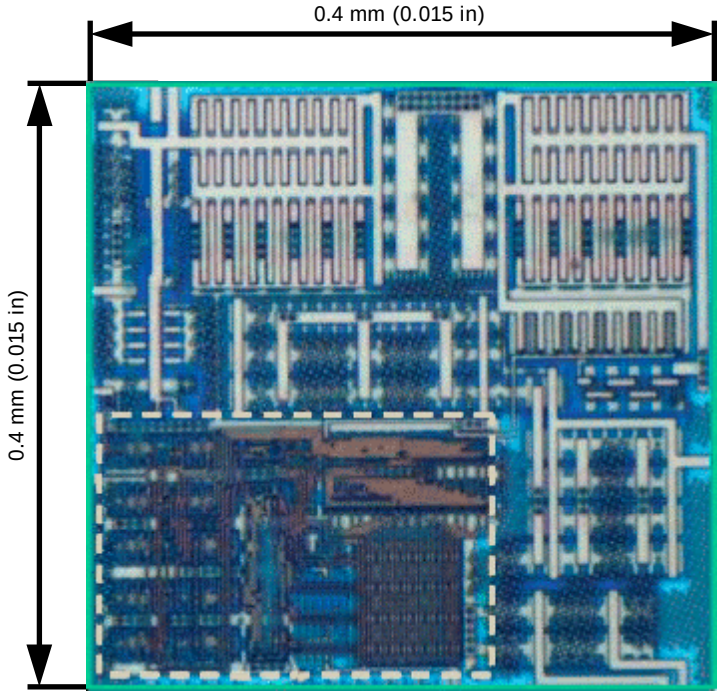
By proceeding in this way and rigorously applying common-sense security guidelines, the data previously collected and archived by Israeli intelligence services will then be of no further use to them.

This simple, easy-to-implement and inexpensive measure should greatly help and seriously disrupt Israeli intelligence.

One might think that if such a measure had been implemented in Iran, their scientists and high-ranking military personnel might still be alive today.

After "cleaning" your environment, you will also need to monitor the electromagnetic spectrum to prevent the reappearance of transmitters whose radiation is essential for powering RFID transponders. If powerful, continuously active transmitters reappear, you will need to locate them promptly using radio direction finding, neutralize them, and question those who deployed this equipment.

1 19 miles ago



The miniature RFID transponder from the Japanese company Hitachi in 2001

Bis repetita[1]

A legitimate question to ask regarding the conflict that has pitted Russia against Ukraine for over four years is why one of these two belligerents hides his jewishness (Vladimir Putin) while the other (Volodymyr Zelensky) makes no secret of it? For me, the answer is simple and, once again, is found in the Scriptures.

In my opinion, the right "decoder" to correctly interpret what is happening before our eyes is to observe these events in their entirety, not from the perspective of a European, a Ukrainian or even a Russian, but from the perspective of a jew steeped in religion.

What does a jew who has spent time studying the Scriptures see when he looks at this conflict between Ukraine, led by one of their own, and the vast country of Russia, which presents itself as Christian and a defender of Christian values? He can only see a clear analogy between a small Ukrainian David, forced into a war against his will, and crossing swords with a great Russian Goliath. This parallels the well-known biblical story recounted in the first and second books of Samuel in the Old Testament.

In this biblical story, the giant Goliath, emerging from the Philistine camp, challenges the army of Israel to find a man strong enough to win a duel that will determine the outcome of the conflict between the two nations. This challenge is repeated daily for 40 days, morning and evening, in the Valley of Elah in Judea. A young Israelite shepherd, David, accepts Goliath's challenge. After declaring that he comes against him with God's support, David throws a stone with his sling. It pierces Goliath's forehead, and he falls to the ground. David then takes Goliath's sword and kills him by beheading him.

After this heroic battle, David became a hero in Israel and Saul (the first king of Israel) then gave him one of his daughters in marriage.

Upon the death of King Saul, David was crowned king of Judah, then king of Israel, before being proclaimed messiah. At the head of the kingdom and his army, he defeated Israel's enemies, captured Jerusalem, and founded a vast kingdom stretching from the borders of Egypt to the Euphrates River. Thus began an era of prosperity and peace for Israel.

The Philistines, the tribe to which the giant Goliath belonged, are known in the Old Testament as the mortal and uncircumcised enemies of the israelites, for whom they constituted a military and cultural threat of the highest order.

For a jew, the analogy is obvious in this struggle between tiny Ukraine, led by one of their own, and vast Russia, the world's largest country, led by someone who publicly presents himself as a Christian. A Russia that proudly displays its Christianity and the defense of its values. From its very inception, Christianity has been the number one existential threat to jews.

If we follow the logic that emerges from the narrative of Samuel's books, we then understand the true reasons for this war between Russia and Ukraine and what will result from it, the Third World Nuclear War.

Following this logic, here's what we should observe in broad strokes: Vladimir Putin's Russia will lose militarily against Ukraine. This scenario is becoming increasingly clear as these lines are being written (July 2026).

To avoid a humiliating defeat, Russia will use its last major military asset: its nuclear arsenal. Possibly first against Ukraine, to gauge its military impact and test international reactions. Then, possibly, simultaneous, large-scale strikes against Europe [2]. But one way or another, Russia will be forced to use its powerful nuclear weapons. It will have little difficulty doing so: we can be certain that the men with the right mindset to carry out this task have long been pre-positioned in strategic posts within the political and military apparatus by this Russian executive, which is under the orders of the jewish master of the Kremlin. This Russian executive has deliberately adopted an all-out, uncompromising approach. Moreover, extensive psychological preparation has been carried out beforehand, both on the Russian population itself and on European populations. Finally, the Russian army (particularly its naval component) has been training for this type of operation very regularly for many years. They are ready.

It is worth noting that the psychological preparation of European populations for nuclear war was carried out by systematically emphasizing that, despite the inherent nature of the threat, nuclear war was impossible. This deliberate lie, repeated ad nauseam, was deliberately propagated to maximize the number of victims and the psychological impact on these populations. This preparatory work was essential for a total fratricidal war between Europe and Russia.

Once the bulk of the enemy's military potential and command and decision-making centers have been destroyed, Russia, lacking sufficient forces of its own, will lead a coalition of countries (including Algeria and Turkey; Muslim countries whose religious culture fuels an inextinguishable thirst for revenge) and launch a conquest of European territories by land and sea (via the Mediterranean). They will massacre its defenseless populations, plunder and destroy large portions of Europe and France, and advance as far as the borders of Brittany.

As soon as the European nations have overcome the initial psychological shock, reorganized themselves, and regained their courage, Europe will close in like a death trap on the Russian forces and their coalition. Much like the trap that closed on Napoleon Bonaparte during his disastrous attempt to conquer Russia in the 1812 campaign. The analogy is not accidental, of course. It is a marker. It is a

1 Bis repetita placent: Latin phrase meaning "Things repeated please ." Aphorism imagined from a line in Horace's Ars Poetica, where the poet says that a certain work will only please once, while another, repeated ten times, will always please: " Hæc decies repetita placebit ."

2 The Germans recently commissioned an Israeli Arrow 3 air defense system to protect their territory against Russian ballistic missile threats. The contract between Germany and Israel is worth $4 billion. It is, to date, the largest arms deal ever secured by the Israeli defense industry. The Germans are unaware that this air defense system will be of no use to them when they need it most. The system delivered by the Israelis was designed by them to intercept nothing at the most critical moment. This was inadvertently revealed by Ron Prosor, Israel's ambassador to Germany, during the official inauguration ceremony held at the Fliegerhorst Holzdorf-Schönewalde military base on December 3, 2025. Our German neighbors and friends have bought the most expensive sieve of all time.

slap in the face that the jews are delivering to the Russians. This scenario is neither the Russians' nor the Europeans'. It is the jews' scenario. The underlying intellectual concept is that these nations will destroy each other, that as many non-jews as possible will be exterminated, and that these skillfully manipulated nations will harbor a fierce hatred for one another.

It is also entirely possible that Europe will receive unexpected aid at the opportune moment, enabling it to reverse the course of events. Aid that would come indirectly, from the very people who convinced the Russians to commit this folly. This is a hypothesis I believe.

None of these Russian aggressors will return to Russia. Neither alive nor dead. This is what Saint Marie-Julie Jahenny says in one of her prophecies, and when one makes projections and analyzes them carefully, one understands very well why.

It is important to note that, according to her, during this war on our soil, a man will rise up from the Lyon region against this Russo-Arab coalition. This very particular man will be the next leader of our country. A France that will once again become a monarchy by divine right, to her delight. The monarchy, the best political system for her. Even if the Freemason Winston Churchill thinks differently [1]. Once again, I give credence to this latest prophecy from the stigmatized Breton woman. To be frank, personally, I have been preparing for these events (known as the "Great Tribulations" in the New Testament) for several years, and it is this man and his coalition that I will join to serve our country when he appears. If you yourself are concerned about the future of France and our people, this is also an option you can consider.

Other conflicts will erupt simultaneously, two in particular: a military conflict between the United States and China (the Russians and Chinese have been conducting military exercises very regularly for many years). I anticipate that these two countries will launch a coordinated, simultaneous nuclear attack. Russia and Belarus against Europe. China and North Korea against the United States, South Korea, and Japan. This is the first major conflict. The second will be a conflict between India and Pakistan.

Finally, once one grasps the religious (not to say satanic) nature of this Third World War, one also understands that, in the logic of the jews, no other country can continue to exist. That country is Armenia. This small, peaceful country in the Lesser Caucasus, which never makes headlines (except when it is the victim of misfortune), this cradle of Christianity, must, in their eyes, simply disappear. Numerous warning signs suggest that significant behind-the-scenes maneuvers are taking place. It would be too lengthy to detail them here, and it is not the purpose of this document. However, the latest ominous sign dates from June 28, 2026, with Israel's recognition of the Armenian Genocide perpetrated by the Ottomans in 1915-1916. Everything about it is objectionable: the political act itself, the context, and the timing. I hope I am wrong.

Given the political weight, the military potential of the protagonists, and the nature of the stakes, these two conflicts can only be nuclear. Neither of these protagonists will win this war. As I wrote earlier in this document, only losers will emerge from this conflict. This is what consistently emerges from all the scenarios reviewed.

Three days of total darkness will then follow, according to the venerable Father Pel. This prophecy is also found in the Book of Revelation of Saint John. This total darkness will be the result of the immense quantities of black soot projected into the atmosphere by the gigantic fires ignited by the nuclear strikes on the major cities of the belligerent countries.

Following this disaster, there will be no harvest and fruit trees will not bear fruit for three years, according to Father Pel. Clearly, this disastrous phenomenon can only be attributed to the increase in ambient radioactivity and ultraviolet radiation. Indeed, the enormous quantities of nitrogen oxides released into the atmosphere by the massive fires resulting from the nuclear strikes will destroy the ozone layer. It will certainly take several years for the levels of ultraviolet radiation and ambient radioactivity to become more or less compatible with life.

At the end of this conflict, Europe, the United Kingdom, Russia, the United States, Canada, China, Japan, the two Koreas, Pakistan, India, Turkey, Algeria, and most other countries in the Northern Hemisphere will be annihilated. I'm not even mentioning the countries of Central Africa or Latin America, which will be plagued by all sorts of evils, including wars, civil wars, and religious conflicts. Overall, it can be said that the coming world war is a war of all against all.

I am not saying that what is described here is what will happen. This scenario is only a projection. But this scenario seems to align quite well with the Scriptures, the prophecies of Marie-Julie Jahenny and Father Constant Pel, and with what is observable in reality.

For Israelis, the sole and great victor to emerge from this world war should therefore be the little Ukrainian David, Volodymyr Zelensky, who, in their eyes, will have single-handedly succeeded in militarily and economically defeating the world's largest Christian country, Russia, and, at the same time, bringing all of Israel's enemies to their knees. That is to say, quite simply, all non-jews, in fact, all the other countries in the world, to put it simply. And all this while becoming an extremely wealthy man. Which, for jews, is absolute proof of intelligence over stupidity, of victory over defeat. Like David, he will become a hero.

Meanwhile, the antagonistic countries of this Third World War will be annihilated—socially, economically, and militarily. Annihilated by war, nuclear war, civil war, epidemics, radioactive fallout, and famine. These countries will harbor an unquenchable mutual hatred. Even if the ruling circles of these countries were to realize they had been manipulated like children by the jews, they would no longer possess the capacity to become a threat to Israel, nor would they ever regain it. Their primary concerns would then be focused on daily survival, civil war, issues related to nutrition and access to drinking water, health, protection against ionizing radiation, demographics, and the persistent threats posed by the countries with which they had previously been in conflict. Israel would thus become a secondary concern for them. In this way, Israel would be able to grow undisturbed and quickly become hegemonic.

If we follow the logic of the narrative in the Books of Samuel, Volodymyr Zelensky will become the new king of Israel, their messiah.

1 " Democracy is a very bad system, but there is no better one. " - Winston Churchill

It's astonishing (I was the first to be surprised when I discovered it), but that's precisely what this parallel reveals when followed to its conclusion. He will continue his military work and will establish modern-day Israel within its borders as described in Genesis chapter 15, establishing Jerusalem as its capital. He will be a messiah chosen not by God, but by the Israelis themselves. A messiah whose legend will have been entirely fabricated by a small, highly intelligent Israeli intellectual elite. A messiah created specifically for the Israelis, by the Israelis, and against the entire world. A messiah of a new kind, a rather unusual one. A messiah addicted to cocaine.

It is important to highlight this man's addiction to psychotropic substances not to defame him but because it will be crucial later in understanding his psychology and explaining his actions, particularly in the terminal phase of his drug addiction.

In Israel, it is highly likely that there is not a single person who is unaware that Vladimir Putin is jewish. As previously stated, in the Israeli-imagined World War III scenario—this Hollywood spectacle conceived and written for the entertainment of jews—Vladimir Putin's role is to destroy Russia—and by extension, all of Christendom—from within, whenever they command him to do so. Observation shows that this is precisely the work Vladimir Putin has been carrying out since February 2022. Donald Trump holds the same position and performs the same work as Vladimir Putin, but for the United States. I expect him, too, to use nuclear weapons, but against Iran.

It's a big unknown: who will be the first to break the taboo on the use of nuclear weapons? One thing is certain, however: this taboo will fall.

It matters little to Israelis whether Vladimir Putin is one of their own or not. What matters most is that the rest of the world believes he is a goy, a non-jew, and, very importantly, a non-jewish Christian. This detail is crucial to the narrative they will later construct, from the position of victor, of these events.

Truth matters little to these people[1]. Only appearances count. Moreover, historians agree that the biblical accounts of their great battles and famous episodes, such as the story of Samson and Delilah, or the famous fight between David and the Philistine Goliath that we just reviewed, are historically "unreliable." A polite way of saying that these grand mythical stories of the Tanakh are a web of lies. On the other hand, these same historians emphasize that these famous biblical war narratives greatly contributed to the emergence of Israelite identity and royalty. Lies have their uses in politics.

Volodymyr Zelensky's profession is actor. He was the lead actor in a Ukrainian comedy television series titled "Servant of the People." In this television drama, he played an upright professor who, somewhat by chance, rises to the highest office in the land. A striking coincidence, wouldn't you say? A coincidence where fiction and reality intertwine. The false and the true.

An actor is someone who pretends to be something they are not. An actor's job is to lie, and to lie convincingly. To lie, but not just any old way. To lie on command, in a structured way, and following a script. The better you are at lying, the better you are at acting. An actor is someone who has made lying and falsehood their life's work. What's striking is that no one seems to find it curious that a man with no political or military training could become, overnight, a leading politician, a military leader, a strategist, a leader of the same stature as a Charles de Gaulle or a Winston Churchill. No one seems to notice the implausibility and absurdity of this fairy tale.

Volodymyr Zelensky is what he has been all his life: an actor. An actor cast in the role of a head of state. This man's head is not on his shoulders. It is deported, it is collective, and it is in Tel Aviv.

How the jews sold our elites the extermination of their own people

The impending disaster would not have been possible without the active participation of our elites in this criminal Israeli scheme. Each of them, at their own level, plays their assigned role. Thus, the jews can implement, in a coordinated manner, the scenario they have devised. How is such a thing possible? To understand, one must understand how France actually operates from within.

Thanks to their astonishing intelligence, the jews have carried out a particularly effective infiltration of our societies. Their intellectual abilities have allowed them to access strategic positions in all government departments, major corporations, banks, and all other key sectors of society. This infiltration, conducted over several centuries, has enabled them, over time, to gain effective control of the human societies in which they have established themselves—that is to say, virtually everywhere on Earth.

Although hidden, the French political elite are all aware of this reality. If they themselves wish to attain positions of power, they are forced to pledge allegiance and submit to the wishes of the jews; otherwise, their far-reaching network will become an insurmountable obstacle. For example, a politician who wishes to pursue an independent policy that is in the right direction for our country would immediately find all doors slammed shut. This virtual barrier is what insiders call the "glass ceiling." An invisible barrier that prevents any initiative that does not conform to the will of the jews and be approved by them.

Every politician in France knows this sad truth. The French have not controlled their country for a very long time. Not since the coup d'état of 1789 (and the assassination of our King Louis XVI) which the jews and their Freemason cronies successfully carried out against us. What they did to us, they also did to the Russians in 1917, with the elimination of Nicholas Romanov and his family.

In their Masonic lodges, the jews explained to our elites that French society had become unmanageable, uncontrollable, that the French had become ultra-individualistic, egocentric, greedy, and ungrateful, that they no longer had any respect for anything[2]. They

1 " You [those who claim to be jews but are not] belong to your father, the devil, and you want to carry out your father's desires. He was a murderer from the beginning, not holding to the truth, for there is no truth in him. When he lies, he speaks his native language, for he is a liar and the father of lies. " John 8:44

2 " But understand this, that in the last days there will come times of difficulty. For people will be lovers of self, lovers of money, boastful, proud, argued that climate change (due to the uncontrolled emission of greenhouse gases from the burning of fossil fuels) forced the "elites" to find an urgent solution, and that this solution, however horrific, could only be a drastic reduction in the world's population. Consequently, they, the "elites," had no other choice but to secretly plan a new, highly fratricidal world war. However, despite the horror of this plan, the "elites" might find some consolation in the opportunity to reap enormous profits by manufacturing and selling all sorts of material goods: weapons, ammunition, drones, night-vision equipment, armored vehicles, computer software, medical supplies, consumables of every kind—in short, all the logistics necessary to fuel this new war. They, as "elites," would obviously be assured of surviving this scheme in the best possible conditions, comfortably, and incredibly wealthy. This, in broad strokes, is how the Israelis sold our elites the annihilation of the country and the extermination of the people from whom they come.

While the description of French society given above is accurate, it must be emphasized that what the French have become today is the direct result of decades of insidious erosion of our children, beginning in their earliest years. An education that teaches our youth competition, that is, to consider themselves better than others (which fuels pride), to be greedy, individualistic, deceitful, vicious, and to see others not as brothers or sisters but as adversaries, even enemies. A de-Christianized society, devoid of any sense of the sacred, and inundated ad nauseam with vulgar desires and pleasures. All this to keep a centralized system running, a system built around the god of money. The worship of the golden calf. Pagan idolatry.

As for global warming, it stems directly from oil consumption, much to the chagrin of Mr. Donald Trump.

At the beginning of the 18th century, oil was worthless and its consumption was marginal. It wasn't until the late 18th century and especially the early 19th century that its consumption truly began. The company behind the current insatiable appetite for oil is the American company Standard Oil, founded in the United States by the jewish businessman John D. Rockefeller. The climate change we are experiencing today is a direct consequence of this jew's boundless greed.

This, in broad strokes, is how the Israelis sold our "elites" the extermination of most of humanity. They did the same thing in France, of course, but also in Russia, the United States, the United Kingdom, Germany, Japan, China—in short, everywhere they have a presence. Then it was easy for them to imagine a scenario in which one country attacks another, or other countries take sides. Then they created the escalation. Little by little. Timidly at first, then more and more brutally until the final confrontation. At which point we find ourselves with a world war.

The coming world war, which will lead to the annihilation of our country and our people, is only the final part of the work of infiltration and undermining that the jews have carried out against our country and against the human societies of this world.

Politicians in France, and indeed in all major societies worldwide, are forced to pledge allegiance to the jews. In form and substance. If this reality is new to you, since a picture is worth a thousand words, I invite you to download an archive from the Internet Archive website[1]. There's no need to even read it, just look. This way, you'll understand for yourself the reality of the world we live in. While you're on this website, you can also download a second archive[2]. This other archive contains images that show, without embellishment, what the jews have planned for us, what awaits us.

To return to our "elites", Marie-Julie Jahenny, ever the same, tells us in her ecstasy of April 27, 1877, that France will experience civil war in addition to the war with Russia: "[…] When the government sees these upheavals, it will do like the bird, it will fly away and pass into another country and France will find itself free in its revolution. "

Thus, our "elites" (the very same ones you see on television every day) will abandon us to our fate and leave France (with suitcases full of money) to seek refuge in another country. Why? Because they are perfectly aware of the nature of the impending disaster and that they are the ones responsible for it. These individuals will leave France and settle in another country. A country they know to be stable and at peace. An island of peace in a world that has become a nightmare. After much deliberation, it appears that this only country can be Israel.

If you yourself are sensitive to matters of justice, there's no point in wasting your time chasing after these individuals. Justice will take its course. In fact, I can already tell you what will happen to these "elites."

Once these people are in Israel, they will be received like kings. The Israelis will give them every honor. They will be received in the best places in the land and treated with the utmost respect. Then, the Israelis will hold a great feast to celebrate their arrival and their victory. At this feast, they will find every possible carnal pleasure: exquisite food, fine wines and spirits, music, delightful entertainment —everything that can soothe the soul. And then? Then, not one of them will leave this feast alive. The Israelis will exterminate them. This feast will not be theirs. It will be the jews' feast. A human sacrifice. This is what happens to you when you sell your soul to the Devil.

If these scenarios were to materialize in their broad outlines, then it would clearly highlight the pathetic logic and reasoning that led those who consider themselves "the elite of the elite[3]" of this world to think, plan, meticulously prepare and execute the irreversible destruction of our environment, our habitat and that of our descendants, the work of Our Father in Heaven, and the premeditated murder of several billion human beings.

---

abusive, disobedient to parents, ungrateful, unholy, without natural affection, unforgiving, slanderous, without self-control, brutal, not lovers of good, traitors, headstrong, conceited, lovers of pleasure rather than lovers of God, having a form of godliness but denying its power. Turn away from such people. " Timothy 3:1-5

1 5000 pictures on judaism, freemasonry and satanism, Internet Archive: https://archive.org/details/5000-pictures-on-judaism-freemasonry-and-satanism

2 340 pictures on nuclear effects, Internet Archive: https://archive.org/details/340-pictures-on-nuclear-radiations-effects

3 " So the last will be first, and the first will be last. " Matthew, chapter 20, verse 16

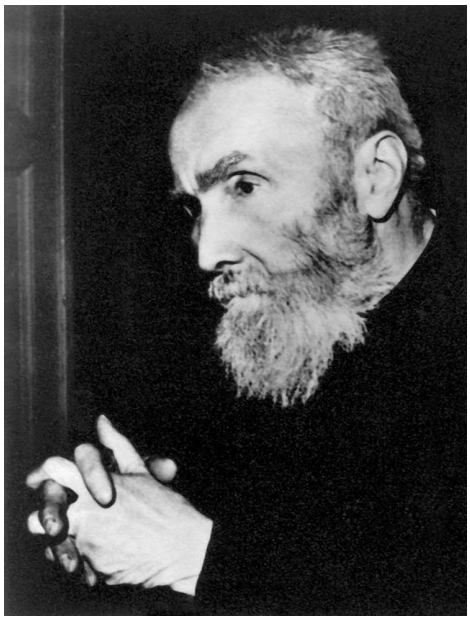
Prophecy made by Father Constant Pel concerning France



Father Constant Pel (†1878-1966)

Marie-Julie Jahenny (†1850-1941)

A seminarian, Father Bernard-Marie, confidant and spiritual son of Father Pel, wrote a book[1] about the venerated Father Constant Pel. In it, he recounts this prophecy made by the holy priest concerning the punishments that were to befall France. Here it is.

" My son, know that as the sins of the world escalate in horror during this century, very great divine punishments will fall upon the world, and no continent will be spared from the Wrath of God. […] France, guilty of apostasy and denying her vocation, will be severely punished. She will be divided as if by a line running from Bordeaux to Lille. To the right of this line, everything will be devastated and burned by the invasion of peoples from the East and also by the fall of large, flaming meteorites [nuclear bombardment] raining fire upon the entire earth and upon these regions in particular. It will be general desolation. "

" Revolutions, war, epidemics, plague and other diseases, toxic and chemical gases, violent earthquakes. The extinct volcanoes of France will reignite, destroying everything: Auvergne, the Alps, the Pyrenees and other places. […] While the left side of the line will be less affected, Vendée, Brittany, because of the Faith still rooted in these regions, it will nevertheless be necessary to move far away from the coasts, sometimes even up to 50 kilometers [2], to escape being swallowed up by the sea, like Marseille and the French Riviera, which will be engulfed because of the sins committed and the scandals […] . "

"[…] The sectarians and great enemies of God who would seek refuge there, believing they could escape this global cataclysm, will be put to death by the demons themselves, wherever they may hide, for the Wrath of the Lord is just and holy. "

" Thick darkness, brought about by war, gigantic fires, and the fall of flaming star fragments that will occur over three days and three nights, will extinguish the sun, and only Candlemas candles, blessed on this occasion, will be able to give light to the hands of the faithful […] . Thus, my child, three-quarters of humanity will be destroyed, and in some parts of France, one will often have to travel a hundred kilometers to find another human being. People will resort to eating human flesh to survive. Several nations will disappear from the map of the world. France will be very small, but it will partially survive until the End of Time. For, thus purified, it will become once again the eldest daughter of the renewed Church. For all the Cains and Judases of humanity will have disappeared in this Judgment of the Nations, but not yet in the End of Time, which will take place later. "

" The Mediterranean Sea will disappear completely, the oceans will hurl enormous jets of burning vapor into the sky and sweep across the continents in a terrifying tidal wave [use by the Russians of the 2M39 Poseidon nuclear torpedo] , annihilating everything in its path, while new mountains will rise from the oceans and the land and while the Alps and the Rhine Valley collapse."

"All the way to the north, invaded by the sea. Thus, the current world map will be completely changed. And the earth will experience great upheavals that will prevent it from rotating normally. […] The seasons will cease to exist for at least three years before the earth can once again produce grass and vegetation. Great famine throughout the world. "

" Paris will be destroyed by the Revolution and burned by atomic bombs fired by the Russians from Orléans and the Provins region. While Marseille and the French Riviera will collapse into the sea. […] More than 3 billion human beings will disappear in this global upheaval, and Jesus said that there will never again be such great desolation, even at the end of the world, so great will be the punishment due to the sins of the world. "

" We are beginning [1945] , my child, to enter the time of the Apocalypse as seen by Saint John […] Later, when you see that this

1 Father Pel (1878-1966): A true mystic, by those who knew him, Father Bernard-Marie, 1983, Parole et Silence Publishing dreaded time is near, then go to Brittany and withdraw, but towards the center, far from the coasts that will crumble. […] For this worldwide scourge will begin on a cold winter night, and a terrifying rumble of divine thunder will be heard throughout the world, and this divine thunder will have an abnormal sound, filled with demonic cries; it will be the voice of sin that terrified men will hear that night."

2 31 miles ago

Marie-Julie Jahenny

Marie-Julie Jahenny was a stigmatized French Catholic mystic. She was born on February 12, 1850 in Blain (Loire-Atlantique) and died on March 4, 1941. Her grave is also located in Blain and is still visited and adorned with flowers to this day.

In January 1873, Marie-Julie Jahenny fell gravely ill. Doctors diagnosed her with intestinal tuberculosis, and she was considered doomed. She received the last rites. On February 22, the Blessed Virgin Mary appeared to her and announced her recovery. She appeared again on March 15 and asked her if she was prepared to suffer for the rest of her life in order to obtain the conversion of sinners. Finally, on March 21, Jesus Christ appeared to her, and she received his stigmata. From that moment on, Marie-Julie Jahenny relived the Passion of Christ every Friday.

In the first decade of her life as a mystic, Marie-Julie Jahenny experienced two periods of complete abstinence from food and drink. The first lasted 94 days and the second 5 years, 1 month, and 22 days.

During her countless ecstasies, Marie-Julie Jahenny gave us an overall view of the battle plan between God our Father and the Devil and what will happen to our country and to us.

" I see that at the moment the Lord ascended to Heaven and took possession of His eternal Kingdom, at that moment, hell became the Kingdom of the Enemy. The Lord seized His earthly kingdom and said: I am established as Eternal King. Satan, furious, seeks some way to maliciously extend his power. He demands a share. The Lord tells him: You will be subject to Me; you will only do what the Eternal Law permits you… I grant you the power to tempt all people, to make them suffer to a certain extent, but I will be present… In the beginning, you will not perform many wonders; they will serve you to do evil. I grant you permission to tempt My people, but I will never allow you to assume the divine form, nor that of true figures. Satan says: I will transform everything into a tool of labor against You; I will sow rebellion, war, and division everywhere. I will overthrow the temple of Your prayers; I will establish idols there that will be worshiped." I will break everything there. Jesus said: I will crush under the lightning of Heaven all those who are given to you for hell. I will restore My people. I will preserve them from plagues. I will rebuild the ruins. I will cast you into the abyss, but only after you have used the powers I leave you for the moment… During the darkness, there will be many conversions; many who have gone astray will return to Me through repentance. " Marie-Julie Jahenny asked in what era the Devil was to reign supreme. The Holy Spirit answered her: " It is the one in which you are now, children of God. " (ecstasy of August 30, 1880)

" I wanted to warn my people, so that they would not be taken by surprise. Wait in confidence and hope… […] Be assured, France, the days and hours are marked in My Heart; a little more time and I will fulfill My promises. " (ecstasy of November 26, 1874)

" Revolutions are like volcanic eruptions. They are preceded by warning signs. Spectacular events are the awakening of a slumbering age. " (Ecstasy of May 9, 1882)
" Before peace can bloom again on earth, great penance must appease divine wrath. It is the Lord Himself who exercises His justice. It belongs to Him alone to punish, but in punishing, He will purify the earth and its people. He will spare nothing. He will cultivate the earth to sow new seed there. " (ecstasy of May 25, 1877)

" Against a general background of confusion and disorder, distinct periods emerge, like stages in a progression. It is first like a storm that rumbles, then bursts forth, ending with a great blow that restores peace. The first period is the extent of the evils upon the Eldest Daughter of the Church, France. The second is the Church invaded, and the beginning of the terrible struggle in the Eternal City [Rome] . This struggle, in the Eternal City, will languish for five months […]." (ecstasy of May 4, 1882)

The great revolution will begin in France. France will be the first to march toward the abyss and also toward resurrection. The first crisis in France should last three months, followed by a second crisis of four weeks. The scope of these two crises will be immense. During this terrible hour, foreigners will be masters in France. They will display uncontrollable violence toward the French. " Cries of despair and alarm will rise to Heaven. The months of the Sacred Heart [June] and of My Blood [July] will be the signal for punishments, for civil war. When the government sees these upheavals, it will do like the bird, it will fly away and pass into another country, and France will find itself free in its revolution. " (Ecstasy of April 27, 1877)

" The military will be withdrawn from France [to Eastern Europe and the Middle East] and the forces of law and order will be reduced. It is during this troubled period that infamous laws will be promulgated, aimed, among other things, at establishing a stranglehold on religion […] . Revolutionaries will establish a totalitarian regime with its system of summary justice for opponents, surveillance, denunciations, etc., against a backdrop of famine due to insufficient harvests and calamities [earthquakes and epidemics] . Torrential rains causing significant delays in cultivation will be one of the harbingers of this revolution. […] Civil war and epidemics will claim many victims, especially in large cities. […] This law will trample on everything that is most sacred. " (Ecstasy of April 20, 1882)

" The second and violent crisis will begin and last for 45 days. France will be invaded as far as the diocese that begins in Brittany. The strongest army [the Russian army] will fall upon Orléans […]. In a single sweep, they will reach the outskirts of the Great City [Paris] . They will only penetrate it halfway through the crisis. " (Ecstasy of September 28, 1882) " In the North, they will reach the borders of the Vendée and Normandy. Brittany will not be invaded, but it will not be spared all punishment, especially in the dechristianized North, where they will engage in pillage and vengeance. They will come from the East and the Mediterranean, for much unrest is also predicted in Italy and Spain, caused by forces from the eastern regions. In the South, Marseille, Valence—what a slaughter! The northern, eastern, and southern regions, and Paris, will be severely affected. The national territory will be divided in two." […] It is in the middle of these terrible months that the Savior King [the one who will become the new King of France] will appear . But there will be a long battle of reconquest lasting several months to drive out the invaders. He will not establish his throne in Paris, which will have been destroyed. " (ecstasy of October 2, 1875)

For Marie-Julie Jahenny, the next capital of France will be Versailles. Paris will no longer exist.

Map of the invasion of France according to the prophecies of Marie-Julie Jahenny, of Abbé Souffrant and Father Constant Pel

Red zone: Russian or Russo-Arab invasion
Blue arrows and roads: evacuation routes to Brittany

Note: map established by André Lesage de la Franquerie de la Tourre and General Maxime Weygand.

Red zone: Russian or Russo-Arab invasion
Blue arrows and roads: evacuation routes to Brittany

Note: map established by André Lesage de la Franquerie de la Tourre and General Maxime Weygand.